Brookstone Builders, Inc. Completes Scottish Rite of Masons Renovation Project

MANCHESTER, NH – (November 24, 2025) Brookstone Builders, Inc., construction managers and general contractors headquartered in Manchester, New Hampshire, recently announced that they have completed a renovation project for the Scottish Rite of Masons, Northern Masonic Jurisdiction.

The project involved interior renovations of approximately 5,000 square feet at 223 Main Street in Nashua. The scope of work included demolition, abatement, the installation of structural supports, a new elevator, new windows, an additional stairwell, new bathrooms, and a new HVAC unit, along with other improvements and finishes.

The space will house one of the organization's Children's Dyslexia Centers. For over two decades, the Scottish Rite Masons, Northern Masonic Jurisdiction, have been national leaders in the effort to help children and their families overcome the painful obstacles of dyslexia. They currently operate over forty centers in thirteen states.

Stephen Nichols was Brookstone Builders' Project Manager, architecture was provided by Kurt Lauer Architects of Goffstown, NH, and the project's engineers were Pyramid Engineering of Freemont, NH.

"This renovation aligned well with our teams' experience and expertise, making it an ideal project for us," said Karen Scales, Brookstone Builder's President. "It was also a prime opportunity to help further the good work being done by the Scottish Rite of Masons to help afflicted children and their families,"

A woman-owned enterprise, Brookstone Builders, Inc. was founded in 1984. The company provides design-build, commercial, and industrial construction solutions throughout northern New England, and has also been involved in a wide range of specialty and renovation projects.
